

PREDATOR ROPE DELAYED

To our Customers,

June 1, 2019

We want to make you all aware of an unforeseen production issue that recently came to our attention. You may have heard that there are industry-wide delays affecting Samson Predator rope right now. And the tidal wave of demand for Aero Hunter products this season has depleted the stores of Predator rope in our workshop. We have to wait until late June before they will be replenished—for orders we placed with Samson in April.

If you ordered Kestrel Flex with a rope bridge before 5/19/2019, we have 3 options available to you. Here are your choices:

Option 1—Keep your order unchanged and wait until July 5 for shipping. If this is your choice you do nothing. Your order will ship when the Samson Predator rope arrives. You will receive an email about the status of your order.

OR

Option 2—Change the bridge on your saddle to a webbing bridge and ship on schedule. You will receive an email about the status of your order. To choose this, please reply to that email.

OR

Option 3—Change the bridge on your saddle to Yale Blaze rope and ship on schedule. You will receive an email about the status of your order. To choose this Yale Blaze option, please reply to that email.

Blaze rope by Yale Cordage is comparable in construction to Predator, but a little lighter in weight. It's orange, broken up by black and yellow tracers, as you can see. As you all know, deer are unable to see this color, so it makes a good option for a rope bridge in your setup. It will be built into the Flex with a spliced eye, and include the same prusik adjuster and carabiner.

If you ordered a Lineman's belt or a Tree Strap, or if you ordered a Kestrel or Kite saddle alone or in a Kit:

We have to wait for stock of Predator rope for these. If our re-supply of rope is received in late June as promised, you can expect shipping the first week in July.

- This rope delay will not slow down our production of saddles. Your saddles will be ready to ship in the next day or two after the rope arrives at our shop.
 - Please do not ask us to ship a saddle without a bridge. Some folks may want to add their own bridge, and that's up to them. But our strict safety policy requires that we ship only finished saddles that meet safety standards and are ready to use. Thanks for your understanding.
 - Kestrel Flex orders received on May 19 or later are scheduled to ship in July and will not be affected by the Predator delay. In the next few days we will email you to update your individual shipping schedule.

The staff at Aero Hunter would like to thank you for your patience and understanding. We do our best to work with you and ensure you receive the best possible customer service and best Aero Hunter product.

Thank you for choosing Aero Hunter.
